HOW DO YOU RECOGNIZE A REAL ATOMA NOTEBOOK?

THE DESIGNERS

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

Atoma, “The Original”

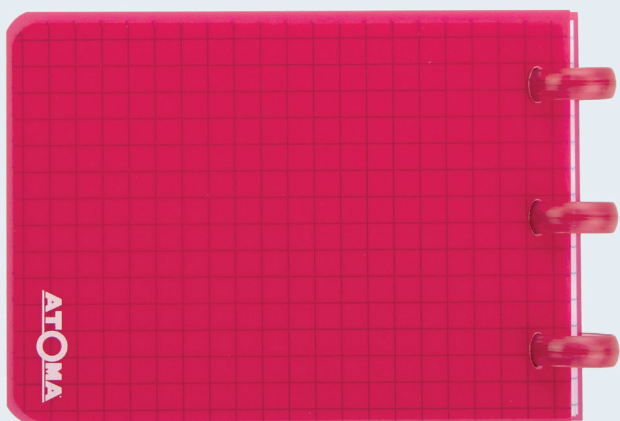

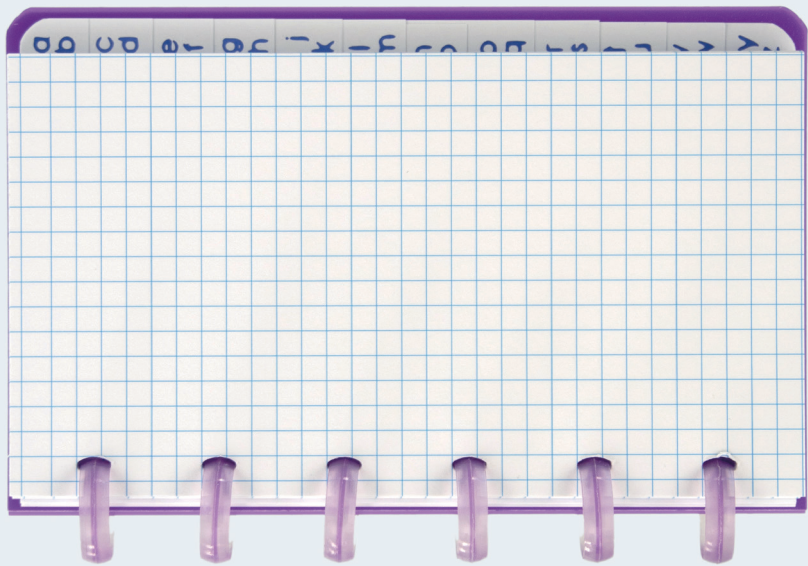

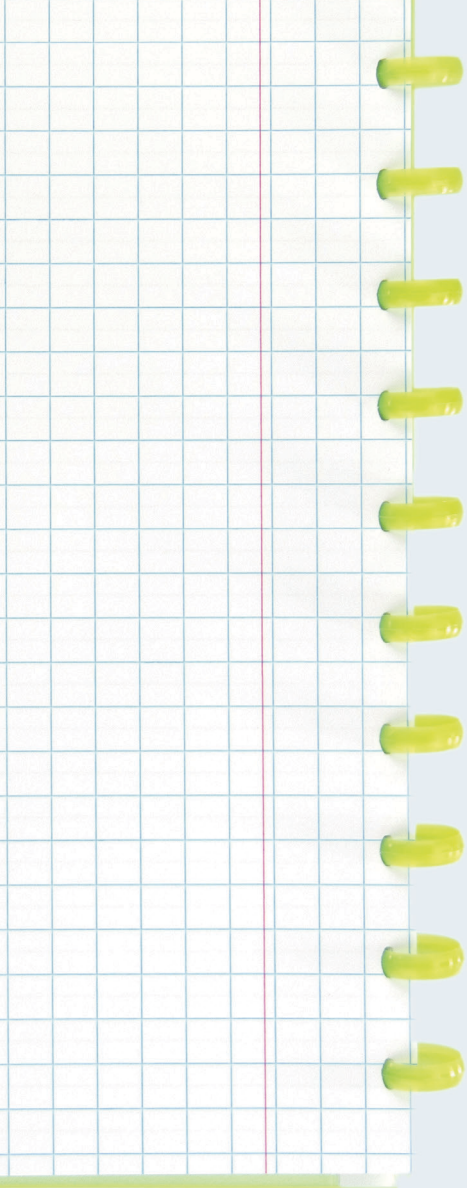

The first Atoma notebooks are already more than seventy years old. The duo André Tomas and André Martin (A-To-Ma) designed them for Atoma. Nothing has changed since then in the revolutionary concept of plastic rings and unique perforations. What could be more logical? It turned out perfect from day one.

For decades, Atoma notebooks have fascinated entire generations.

An Atoma is unlike any other notebook. It is a must-have, an unwritten page ready to record your emotive moments on. A notebook for thoughts and poetry, for addresses and quotes, a photo album and a recipe book... Atoma has many faces.

Atoma, a truly iconic brand.

It is therefore not surprising that the “Atoma notebook” became an established concept as well as a generic name in different languages. A brand icon, similar to “Bic”, “Tipp-Ex” and other brands that became a household name for the user.

The advantages of the Atoma Binding System

The unique Atoma Binding System offers stationery with a pure and timeless design. Atoma notebooks allow you to improve the organization of your documents.

You can:

- Remove pages, put them back or change their order without damaging the pages or the notebook.
- Exchange pages between various notebooks.
- Print and copy on pages before returning them to the notebook.
- Buy refills and insert those in existing notebooks.

The Atoma Binding System combines the best features of a ring binder and a spiral notebook! For students for example, this means:

- Take notes for different subjects in 1 notebook without having to use an impractical thick binder.
- No more putting stickers round holes when you tear paper in your binder!
- The small rings don't get in the way when taking notes, as is the case with a binder.
- An Atoma notebook only takes up half the space on the desk with its ring system where the sheets turn 360°.

Atoma, thoroughbred Belgian!

ATOMA, certified supplier of the Belgian
Royal Court.

Atoma is since 1948 a typical Belgian product based on a timeless design of which we can rightly be proud. Meanwhile, seven decades later, Atoma extended beyond its borders to become one of Belgium's crown jewels in terms of custom linked design. The phenomenon was often imitated but never matched.

Atoma is a certified supplier of the Belgian Royal Court. Eighty percent of Atoma's production remains within the country. The remaining twenty percent is destined for abroad.

Environmentally Friendly Products

The Bio Atoma collection is made with recycled covers. The #climate collection goes one step further: its covers, PVC rings and paper are completely recycled.

All paper used in the Atoma products is completely chlorine-free bleached. It is also FSC* certified, which is less harmful to the environment.

For almost all products you can order handy refills. This way you reduce your footprint by re-using your covers.

How do you recognize a real Atoma Notebook?

A few things to watch out for if you are looking for “The Original”!

Because Atoma did not extend the patent, the Atoma system is no longer protected. Some competitors have since made similar products.

For true connoisseurs of Atoma, there are a few differences between “The Original” and copybook knockoffs that immediately stand out:

1. Atoma always uses quality 90 gram register paper. This is of superior whiteness and strength due to its long fibers. This strength is useful for the paper to hold well behind the rings. What’s more, Atoma’s paper is FSC certified.
2. The Atoma notebook in A4 format has eleven rings while most imitations have twelve
3. And you can also recognize the Atoma notebook by its logo. This is represented, depending on the material on which it is printed, with and without the fan of leaves. Below you will find the two versions of the Atoma logo.
